Roscoe, Mientkiewicz Reelected to Board

On May 2, incumbents Celeste Roscoe and Kenneth Mientkiewicz were re-elected to the Romulus Community Schools Board of Education for four-year terms. According to unofficial totals released by the Romulus City Clerk's office Tuesday night, Roscoe garnered the most votes (463), with Mientkiewicz close behind (427). Challengers Danielle Funderburg and Eugene Robinson received 282 and 277 votes, respectively.

A dismal total of just 768 votes cast – a drop of more than 200 compared to last year's school election – was predominantly due to the fact that absentee voting was down more than 50% compared to recent years. A Wayne County Circuit Court ruling issued after last year's voting controversy in Detroit prevented Romulus City Clerk Linda Choate from automatically mailing ballot applications to the people on her "standing" absentee voters list, and many of those voters failed to call her office to request one.

Citywide Yard Sale

The annual Romulus Citywide Yard Sale is set for May 18–21. For more information, see the "Spring Cleaning" story elsewhere on this page and the list of participating households on page 6.

Golfers, Sponsors Sought for Benefit

A golf outing to raise funds for the Boys & Girls Clubs of South-eastern Michigan – including two Romulus sites at Merriman and Wick elementaries – will be held on Thursday, May 18, at the Gateway Golf Club in Romulus. Golfers and sponsors are being sought for the event, which will begin with registration at 8:30 a.m., followed by a shotgun start at 9 a.m. Lunch at the turn and dinner afterward are included in the registration cost.

Weiss Selected as New Superintendent of Romulus Community Schools

Carl J. Weiss

The Romulus Board of Education has selected Carl J. Weiss as the new superintendent of the Romulus Community Schools, and will assume his duties on July 1, according to district spokesperson Dick Kruse.

"Superintendent Weiss comes to the Romulus school district with a very impressive educational background," said Kruse. "He has earned a Bachelor of Science in Education from the University of Michigan and a Master of Arts in Educational Administration from Oakland University, and has also done post-graduate work in educational administration (Madonna University), assessment training (Lewis and Clark Institute, Oregon), and superintendent preparation (Michigan Leadership Institute Superintendent Academy, Central Michigan University)."

Weiss's professional career includes 19 years as a teacher in the Lapeer Public Schools, 4 years as Lapeer's supervisor/director of instruction, and 5 years as the assistant superintendent/deputy superintendent for Dearborn Heights School District #7. He is a member of 7 professional organizations that specialize in negotiations, personnel, management, curriculum, and professional development.

"During his distinguished career as a teacher, Weiss taught mathematics, biology, physical science, and physics," said Kruse. "He also coached the tennis, volleyball, and track teams; served as a sponsor for several school organizations; and was the district's NCA Target Committee chair.

"Weiss has provided outstanding instructional leadership in both the Lapeer and Dearborn Heights #7 districts," Kruse continued. "All six of his Dearborn Heights schools met their 'Adequate Yearly Progress' goals under the federal government's 'No Child Left Behind' program, and five of the six received grades of 'A' or 'B' on Michigan's 'Education YES!' assessment last year. His leadership additionally helped the district meet the 'Highly Qualified' designation required for all staff members."

Kruse noted that Weiss is held in high esteem by his colleagues in the Wayne County Negotiators and Personnel Administrators Association.

"He has successfully negotiated recent contracts with Dearborn Heights #7 labor unions, and has developed and implemented his own administrative programs that include a differentiated, three-tiered teacher evaluation system and an extensive teacher/administrator hiring system," he said.

Weiss contributed to a technology plan that updated infrastructure, hardware, and software programs for Dearborn Heights #7, and has been a member of the Building and Site Committee for the district, which recently added classrooms to its high school, and renovated the media center and kitchen/cafeteria areas. He has also established a Professional Development Partnership for teachers in conjunction with the Wayne County Regional Educational Service Agency and the University of Michigan–Dearborn.

"Dearborn Heights District #7 colleagues praised Weiss for his work ethic, work performance, and accomplishments, as well as the amount of extra time he volunteered to work on school district projects and attend school programs," Kruse concluded.

Weiss said he is looking forward to working with Romulus citizens and members of the education community.

"I believe we can all work together to continue to provide the very best educational opportunities possible for Romulus children," he said.

Weiss believes that, to work effectively with people, it is important to get to know them first.

"I try to find things I have in common with people, get acquainted with them, and then move on to the business at hand," he explained. "As superintendent, I will work hard to establish trust with Board of Education members, take responsibility for my actions, and, above all, be honest with people."

Weiss and his wife Lisa have two children: daughter Shauna, 15, and son Tyler, 13. Lisa, currently a stay-at-home mother, previously worked as a management consultant for the accounting firm of Plante & Moran. □

Programs Inspire Residents To Start Their Spring Cleaning

Just in time for spring cleaning, the City of Romulus has announced dates for three annual programs designed to help our community look its best.

Clean Sweep Day

Clean Sweep Day, a project spearheaded by Romulus City Councilman LeRoy Burcroff, has been set for Saturday, May 13.

"Clean Sweep was a big success last year," said Burcroff. "Many individuals and community groups donated time to pick up trash throughout town."

Citizens who want to do their part on Clean Sweep Day may choose to work on their own, in a neighborhood of their choice, or they can report to City Hall (11111 South Wayne Road) beginning at 9 a.m. to receive an "assignment" and, if needed, some equipment.

"The City's ordinance people have been keeping an eye out for heavily littered areas in need of cleanup," Burcroff said. "They have also assembled materials such as trash bags, 'pokers,' and gloves for volunteers' use."

Burcroff advises volunteers to take the utmost care when gathering trash and bagging it for curb-side disposal.

"Avoid dangerous debris like broken glass," he said. "Just push it to the curb or some other out-of-the-way area rather than try to pick it up."

Basham To Seek Re-election

State Senator Raymond E. Basham (D-Taylor), who sees himself as one of the Legislature's leading fighters for working families, has announced that he intends to seek re-election this fall.

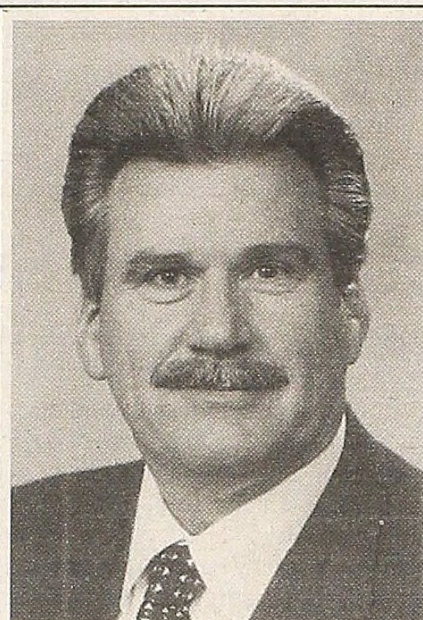

"I'm proud of our recent victories on behalf of Michigan's working families," said Basham. "An increased minimum wage, increased funding for public education, and new curbs on the sale of violent video games to minors can all be traced back to efforts by Senate Democrats to build stronger families and better communities.

"But the fight continues because the people's work is not done," he added.

Basham – who has developed a reputation, in some circles, as a strong and outspoken advocate for the working class – was the lead author of legislation that increases the minimum wage to $6.95 per hour by the end of the year, and to $7.40 per hour by July of 2008. Basham has also authored legislation that would discourage the outsourcing of Michigan manufacturing jobs, and that extends unemployment benefits to workers whose benefits have been exhausted.

Basham also gained notice for his "deadbeat boss" legislation that would require the state's most profitable corporations either to provide their employees with affordable health insurance or reimburse taxpayers for Medicaid-related costs. He is further identified with his legislation that would ban smoking in public restaurants.

"I intend to run a very vigorous campaign for re-election," Basham promised. "We need to deal honestly with the manufacturing job loss in this state, and also restore fiscal responsibility to the Michigan legislature.

"That will not happen without a Democratic legislature," he added.

As the senator for Michigan's 8th District, Basham represents the communities of Allen Park, Ecorse, Lincoln Park, Melvindale, Riverview, Romulus, Southgate, Taylor, Wayne, and Wyandotte. He was first elected to the Senate in 2002, after serving five years in the Michigan House of Representatives.

He is a veteran of the U.S. Air Force, a former auxiliary police officer, and a UAW-Ford retiree. □

Letter to the Editor

Bowl-A-Rama Supporters Thanked

Dear supporters:

On Saturday, April 29, the Friends of the New Romulus Animal Shelter held a Bowl-A-Rama benefit at Romulus Lanes. Winners were Barbara Snyder and Gerilyn Kline (doubles), Ronald JaFolla (men's singles), and Toni Wadsworth (women's singles). All had a great time. Approximately $1,500 was raised.

I would like to thank Michael Beaudrie, owner of Romulus Lanes; Joe Ozog and Frank Ayers, who helped run the events; Mayor Alan R. Lambert, who paid for the pizza; and Romulus Market Place, which donated all the pop.

Thanks, also, to the following individuals and businesses for donating items to be given away as prizes: Stears True Value Hardware, Romulus City Councilman Bill Crova, John Rogin GMC, B & L Automotive Supply, Dave's & Company Barber Shop & Hair Salon, Family Hair Shop, Captain Nemo's Submarine Sandwiches, Burger King of Romulus, Romulus Hardware, and Blue Sky Ice Cream & Hamburgers.

A second Bowl-A-Rama is being planned for October.

Finally, an update on donations to the Animal Shelter fund shows that we are approaching $80,000 in cash and approximately $20,000 in time and materials pledged by local businesses.

In closing, I say to the public: If you haven't already donated to this great cause, now is the time to give your tax-deductible donations. For more information, call me at 734-941-0616.

Thank you,
Councilman Bill Wadsworth

Romulus Community High School Named Michigan Alternative Education Organization's "School of the Year" for 2005/2006

David Groenenboom (right), Michigan Alternative Education Organization Board member and chairman of the School of the Year Committee, presented Romulus Community High School principal Al Wilkerson (center) with the MAEO's 2006 School of the Year Award. Also on hand to congratulate Wilkerson was Romulus Community Schools superintendent Joel R. Carr.

Among the dignitaries who attended the recent MAEO award program in Bay City were (from left) Bill Musham (director, Adult & Community Education Department, Romulus Community Schools), Tom Kuderik (trustee, Romulus Board of Education), Wilkerson, Tom Dolan (Curriculum Department director, Romulus Community Schools), Carr, and Ken Mientkiewicz (secretary, Romulus Board of Education).

Congratulations to Romulus Community High School, which was recently selected as the 2005/2006 "School of the Year" by the Michigan Alternative Education Organization. Principal Al Wilkerson, who accepted the award on behalf of the school, received a standing ovation from more than 200 MAEO members who attended the group's state conference in Bay City.

Wilkerson introduced his outstanding staff, and then used a colorful slide program to illustrate many of the unique educational programs offered at RCHS.

"Wilkerson made a very effective presentation," said district spokesperson Dick Kruse. "He encouraged his fellow alternative educators to try even harder to come up with ways that will help students succeed."

According to Kruse, Romulus Community High School is staffed by state-certified, highly qualified teachers.

"Their dedication to teaching and learning has enabled the school to utilize creative alternative teaching strategies that have significantly raised retention and graduation rates," he noted. "Over 85% of graduating seniors continue with post-secondary education programs."

Joel R. Carr, superintendent of Romulus Community Schools, said he is "very proud of Community High's innovative programs that give students a second, third, and even fourth chance" to discover successful tracks to graduation.

"The school's quarterly enrollment system is user-friendly, and allows students to adjust to temporary difficulties that they may experience," he said.

Carr also praised Community High's dual-enrollment classes, co-sponsored with Wayne County Community College.

"They provide an opportunity for students to earn college credits and become familiar with post-secondary educational careers," he explained.

WCCC president Richard Galant stated, "More than 200 Romulus Community High School students have enrolled in our dual-enrollment programs, and those students have achieved a 90%+ course-completion rate. This statistic is noteworthy because most of the students in the program have, in the past, not demonstrated a high level of motivation or interest in academic achievement."

"I congratulate Community High for winning the MAEO School of the Year Award, and for benefiting so many area students," he concluded.

Romulus Community High School has also been honored with the North Central Association's prestigious "Accredited Special-Purpose School" designation, and has earned additional awards that include an Educational Excellence Award from the Michigan Association of School Boards, an Innovative Educational Program Component Award from the MAEO, and a 2005 "finalist" designation for the MAEO's School of the Year Award.

RCHS has further established a partnership with Eastern Michigan University, serving as an intern placement center for students specializing in working with at-risk individuals.

Wilkerson is especially excited about the new Ford Partnership for Advanced Studies that RCHS began offering last fall.

"This program, which is coordinated with the University of Michigan-Dearborn, gives our students some exceptional learning opportunities that could lead to good paying jobs with Ford, and will definitely give them something to look forward to," he said.

Wilkerson was also proud to point out his students' participation in charitable community events such as food drives, Toys for Tots drives, Hot Shots programs for the American Heart Association, and bottle and hat drives for the Leukemia & Lymphoma Society.

He is looking forward to presenting Community High for National At-Risk Education Network (NAREN) accreditation consideration next year.

Yet another point of pride for Wilkerson is the outstanding success enjoyed by his school's athletics and other competitive teams. In recent years, the RCHS Lions have won Michigan Alternative Athletics Association championships in flag football (one), basketball (three), and chess (two), and have also recorded six runner-up finishes among those same programs.

"Student participation in our various athletics programs is outstanding," Wilkerson explained, "and helps provide a strong incentive for the students to stay in school and be successful in the classroom." □

Burcroff said he hopes that this year's turnout will be even better than last year's.

"Taking part in Clean Sweep Day is a great way to show your pride in Romulus," he explained. "It's an opportunity to assume a caring, responsible role in your neighborhood."

Burcroff also urges Clean Sweep participants to energize themselves for the day by stopping in at the Community United Methodist Church (located at the northwest corner of Olive & Bibbins) between 7 and 10 a.m. for a delicious pancake breakfast. Donations, which will benefit CUMC, are welcome.

To find out more about Clean Sweep, contact the office of Mayor Alan R. Lambert: 734-942-7571.

Free Dumping

Spring cleaning has a way of turning up a big bunch of unwanted trash — more, in fact, than can be readily disposed of at the curb in front of your home. To help you get rid of the mess without ridding yourself of your hard-earned money in the process, the City is sponsoring free dumping for Romulus residents only (proof of residency required) on Saturday, May 13, and again during the week of Monday, May 15, through Saturday, May 20. Permitted items (see below for some restrictions) may be dumped at the Department of Public Works (12600 Wayne Road between Eureka and Goddard) between 8 a.m. and 3 p.m. weekdays, and 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Saturdays.

Note that each household may dump:

- no more than three "bulky" items, such as furniture or freon-free appliances (removal certification sticker required).
- no more than one pickup-truckload of construction debris.
- no more than two loads per day.
- no more than 4 tires (which must be kept separate from other debris).
- only nonhazardous materials.

For a comprehensive list of dumping rules, including items that will not be accepted, pick up a flyer at City Hall or the DPW.

Citywide Yard Sale

But what do you do with all those "treasures" that you couldn't bear to throw away, despite the fact that your closets and shelves are crammed full? Sell them during the annual Citywide Yard Sale Weekend, set for May 18–21, and cram your wallet with cash, instead.

To register for a free one-, two-, three-, or four-day sale permit, stop in at the Recreation Department's new administrative office (11189 Shook). For more information, call 734-941-8665. □

ATTENTION, BARGAIN HUNTERS!

Approximately 70 households and organizations are taking part in Romulus's annual Citywide Yard Sale Weekend, which will begin Thursday, May 18, and continue through Sunday, May 21. (If two or more of the four dates are rained out, the event will be postponed to the weekend of June 1–4.) For your convenience, the City has compiled a list of sale sites, organizing it by geographic area to make unfamiliar streets easier to find.

Numbers in parentheses refer to sale dates:

School District Seeks Public Input on New Wellness Policy

On April 24, the Romulus Community Schools Policy Committee met to discuss a new "Wellness Policy" that, according to the Michigan Board of Education, must be established by July 1.

A draft of the policy, authored by the district's Healthy Living Advisory Committee, has been presented to the Policy Committee, and will be the subject of public discussion and probable revision before its final adoption.

Pat McCollum, HLAC chairperson, is urging parents, students, and district staff members to read the policy and voice their opinions.

"We were given a mandate from the State to write a policy that addresses student wellness and the growing problem of childhood obesity," she explained. "In order for us to do this most effectively, we need more people to become involved in the decision-making process – especially students, whom this policy will most affect."

The next two meetings of the Healthy Living Advisory Committee will be held in the Romulus Adolescent Health Center (located in Romulus High School) at 4 p.m. on May 16 and June 6. Call McCollum (734-532-1435) for more info. □

Romulus Community Schools Wellness Policy (Draft)

Wellness Policy

Romulus Community Schools is committed to creating a healthy school environment that enhances the development of lifelong wellness practices to promote healthy eating and physical activities that support student achievement. Superintendent designees and the Healthy Living Advisory Committee will monitor progress on the wellness goals.

Goal #1: Nutrition Standards

The district will offer school meal programs with menus that meet meal patterns and nutrition standards established by the United States Department of Agriculture (USDA).

Suggested activities:

(a) Recommend that snack vendors provide predominantly healthy food and beverage choices that comply with this policy's purpose.

(b) Encourage the use of non-food items as a reward in the classroom setting.

(c) The elementary schools will encourage the use of healthy snacks and non-food treats for classroom birthday or award celebrations.

(d) Encourage healthy fund-raisers as alternatives to fund-raising that involves selling food items of limited nutritional value, such as candy, chips, and soda.

Goal #2: Nutrition Education

Nutrition education will continue to be addressed within appropriate curriculum areas and based on state benchmarks.

Suggested activities:

(a) Include nutrition education "tips" on school menus.

(b) Encourage staff to serve as role models for healthy eating.

(c) Post nutritional breakdowns on foods offered.

(d) Provide educational materials in the cafeteria that promote good nutrition, such as the new food pyramid, bulletin boards, and posters.

Goal #3: Physical Education and Physical Activity Opportunities

Developmentally appropriate physical education and opportunities for physical activity will continue to be addressed within appropriate curriculum areas and based on state benchmarks.

Suggested activities:

(a) Have elementary schools schedule recess before lunch so that children will come to lunch less distracted and ready to eat.

(b) Encourage the use of pedometers amongst students and staff.

(c) Develop a walking club at lunch or before or after school.

(d) Create a wellness newsletter for staff.

(e) Provide opportunities for staff to participate in activities designed to improve their health and well-being.

Goal #4: Community Involvement

Romulus Community Schools will actively promote wellness experiences for all members of the community, primarily through its Community Education Department.

Suggested activities:

(a) Encourage discussion of health and nutrition at staff meetings.

(b) Host a Health Fair at the high-school level.

(c) Publish a newsletter article in the local paper to inform the community of the activities of the district's Healthy Living Advisory Committee to improve the health and well-being of the students.

(d) Have the physical-education teachers write an article in the parent newsletter about special events (Jump Rope for Heart, Walking for Diabetes, etc.). □

Sixth-graders Attend RMS Orientation

City Banners Mark Start of Spring

It's official – spring is in the air! – now that Romulus Department of Public Works employees like Craig Plank have been busy hanging colorful season banners from City light poles.

Talent Show at HES

Bike Show Teaches Important Lessons on Health, Safety

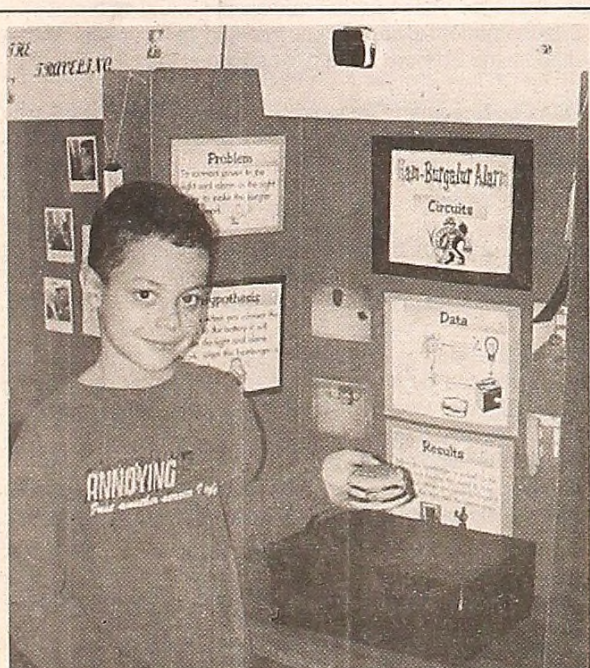

Tom Rokosz, owner of High Action Bikes, gave a dazzling presentation for Barth Elementary students during a recent school assembly.

Students at Barth Elementary were both enthralled and educated by a recent show presented by the nationally acclaimed stunt team, High Action Bikes. The team, under the direction of owner Tom Rokosz, teaches young people about the importance of wearing a bicycle helmet, following the rules of the road, and properly maintaining a bicycle, as well as resisting drugs and peer pressure.

"Rokosz has been performing bike-safety, drug-awareness, and anti-tobacco programs for schools nationwide since 1991," said Romulus Community Schools spokesperson Dick Kruse. "He and his team of highly skilled, drug-free BMX athletes grab the students' attention by spinning, gliding, rolling, and jumping through the air, then use that attention to deliver their message. They let kids know that the keys to success are hard work, dedication, and leading a drug-free life."

Cory Science Fair

Fourth-grader Marcus Madison got an "A" on his "Ham-Burglar Alarm" at the Science Fair.

Fourth-grader Andrew Kilby's "Load Lifter" exhibit also earned an "A".

Yet another "A" entry was fourth-grader Kayla Bryk's "Handmade Guitar."
